TO AMEND GAME LAWS NEXT YEAR

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 30.—Because existing fish and game laws in Indiana are cumbersome, inefficient, antiquated and do not permit the conservation propagation and perpetuation of wild game and aquatic life as they should if any appreciable supply of either is to be insured for the future, legislation will be sought at the next session of the General Assembly to enact additional laws and amend some of the present statutes.

According to George N. Mannfeld, superintendent of the division of fish and game of the state department of conservation, 108 fish, game and protective associations now functioning in Indiana, and whose state organization is known as the Indiana Fish, Game and Forest League, are co-operating with the state department in an effort to secure more adequate fish and game laws. The Indiana League will hold its annual meeting at the Denison Hotel, in Indianapolis, on Thursday, October 28, and a representative of the state department will attend and discuss with delegates present, its plans and purposes.

Department officials have in mind 31 principal subjects that they hope to see worked up into bills and presented for consideration by the next General Assembly session. They follow:

To establish without question the ownership of fish, game, birds, wild animals, turtles, frogs and muskies.

Extensive changes in the fur-bearing laws establishing uniform opening and closing dates on all such animals, and establishing a license for trapping.

Establishing a bag limit on rabbits.

Lengthening closed season on rabbits.

Establishing a bag limit on quail.

Prohibiting the use of trot lines in lakes.

Many housewives will order mayonnaise at the restaurant but not make it at home. Why?

PROBABLY because many still have the idea that mayonnaise is lots of trouble to prepare.

Or that they cannot make good mayonnaise—or that it won't "keep." None of these reasons keeps the woman who knows Mazola from making her own mayonnaise every week.

Mazola being an absolutely pure vegetable oil, blends the ingredients perfectly and imparts its own delicate flavor to the dressing—which will keep for weeks without separating.

Once you try Mazola you will prefer it to olive oil. It not only equals the finest imported olive oil, but costs about half the price.

Mazola is served by leading hotels, clubs and dining cars throughout America.

Give Your Feet a Fair Chance

WE believe in shoes that fit the feet—instead of making the feet fit them. That's why we recommend Educators—the shoes that "let the feet grow as they should." For Educators can never cause corns, bunions, callouses, ingrowing nails, fallen arches, etc.

Don't think that, just because Educators are broad-toed, they cannot be as attractive and good-looking as other shoes. For they are—good-looking and conservative, too. They wear long, besides.

Let us show you Educators. Bring baby in, too—we have Educators especially made for little feet just beginning to toddle around.
